

JMB Insurance Adds Chris Gambino to Growing Risk Management/Private Equity Practice

Delivering deal-making insights for enhanced risk management strategy.

Chicago, March 25, 2015 – JMB Insurance (“JMBI”), the leading risk management services and insurance broker, announced that Chris Gambino has joined the firm to work with its rapidly expanding Private Equity practice area. Chris’ professional experience has been focused in investment banking, venture capital, and he has advised numerous family offices, hedge funds, and private clients on investment strategies.

“We are very fortunate to have Chris’ relevant analytical capabilities and in-depth understanding of insight for decision making at the speed required for deal closure,” shared Ken Sacks, Co-CEO JMB Insurance.

Chris has 17 years of experience in investment banking - advising and raising capital for portfolio companies of some of the most recognized and respected venture capital firms in Silicon Valley.

“Chris is a great addition to our team. His experience evaluating deals from diligence to divestiture delivers actionable alternatives for clients by helping them assess and manage deal risks,” commented Matt Horwitch, Co-CEO JMB Insurance.
